FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Kids In The Middle Announces New Chief Executive Officer

ST. LOUIS (Jan. 2, 2019) - Kids In The Middle (KITM), a nonprofit agency providing counseling services for children and families “in the middle” of divorce, is pleased to announce the appointment of Scott Myers as its new CEO, effective January 2, 2019. Scott Myers joins KITM from the American Youth Foundation, where he served as Director of Development.

“With a strong passion for the mission and exceptional experience, Scott is the right person for this leadership role,” says Bill Clarke, president of the board at KITM. “We are confident he will lead the Agency in its mission to empower children, parents and families during and after divorce through counseling, education and support”

With ten years of professional service in the nonprofit sector in addition to his clinical experience, Scott brings a wealth of knowledge to Kids In The Middle. He has held several prominent fundraising and development positions for some of the largest, most impactful nonprofits in the St. Louis region including the American Cancer Society, Easter Seals Midwest and the United Way of Greater St. Louis.

“KITM fulfills an important need in our community for children and families going through the difficult transition of separation and divorce,” says Myers. “I look forward to bridging the gap between my strong personal passion for the mission with my professional experience to further the impact of the Agency.”

Scott has been involved with Kids In The Middle for several years, as a donor, volunteer and advocate. He understands the importance of providing a safe place for children and families to work through the difficult transition of separation and divorce.

About Kids In The Middle

Kids In The Middle (KITM) helps children and families transition to a new way of life before, during and after separation and divorce, for the sake of creating healthier futures for all involved. Founded in 1977, KITM is a nationally accredited non-profit agency that provides comprehensive and confidential counseling, education and support services focused on the entire family. KITM is a proud member of the United Way of Greater St. Louis and receives funds from the St. Louis County Children’s Service Fund. KITM is located at 2650 S. Hanley Rd. in St. Louis, Mo.
